

STATE SUFFERS HEAVY XMAS STORM

LIVES LOST IN SAN FRANCISCO AND MANY CASES OF DAMAGE REPORTED ALONG THE ENTIRE PENINSULA

The heaviest wind storm in years and what it stated on good authority to have been the strongest gale ever experienced in California at Christmas tore over the state Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The oldest inhabitants of the bay region declare the storm almost without precedent in this vicinity. Several lives were lost in San Francisco, and it is thought that two or three more may have been lost in the bay or on the ocean nearby as the persons involved are still unaccounted for. A number of persons, also, sustained injuries of greater or less severity in San Francisco from falling debris. The best obtainable figures give the rainfall that accompanied the storm to have been about five inches. Many lives were endangered on the bay when the ferry boat belonging to the Southern Pacific company was blown from its course and crashed broadside into the trestle of the Key Route company. The passengers on the boat clambered off on the trestle and walked the three miles to Oakland. At times the wind blew with such velocity that those in the party had to cling to the trestle to keep from being blown into the bay.

Along the peninsula considerable damage was reported. The northern part of San Mateo county suffered less than farther south. In Daly City only a nominal amount of damage was done. In Colma a windmill belonging to the ranch of Henry Volkman was blown over. In South San Francisco several telephone and street light poles were blown over and a large cypress tree near the grammar school was uprooted and fell across the tracks of the street railway and delayed cars for several hours.

From Colma to the coast severe sand storms piled the roads with sand, and the coast towns were without telephone communication with the outside world for several hours owing to the damage to the lines.

In San Bruno damage to several houses in course of construction has been reported, and the San Mateo car line, near San Bruno, suffered damage that tied up cars for two or three hours Sunday.

Farther south many trees were uprooted. This was especially the case in Hillsborough where it is reported several trees of a foot in diameter were blown down. In San Mateo many cases of a small amount of damage occurred; one of the more serious cases being the blowing away of the roof of the Highland Ginger Ale company's plant. Part of a glass roof at the Pacific studios was also demolished. A yacht belonging to J. J. Gassery of San Mateo and torn from its moorings at Redwood City and lost on the bay. Other shipping at the county seat suffered severely.

A large tree was blown across the porch of the parsonage of the San Mateo Congregational church, but nobody was injured. Several autoists had narrow escapes from falling tree limbs and the Rev. A. C. Reed of 131 Sixth avenue, San Francisco, was cut about the face by flying glass when the windshield and top of his car were wrecked near San Mateo Sunday morning.

Along the coast region of San Mateo county some damage to the artichoke plants was reported. Just what this damage will amount to is still impossible to say with certainty.

All together it was a violent storm, and crews of the street car, electric light and telephone companies were given a busy, wet and not altogether a pleasant Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bates had as their guest for the Christmas holidays Miss Ivy B. Wilkinson of the College of the Pacific at San Jose. Miss Wilkinson left Tuesday to visit her sister, Mrs. Frank Woodbury, in Sonoma county.

ADVICE IS GIVEN INCOME TAXPAYERS

Internal Revenue Collector Warns
That Time for Payment Is From January 1 to March 15,
March 15

Collector of Internal Revenue John P. McLaughlin is calling the attention of taxpayers in the First district of California to the fact that the time is approaching for the income tax filing period which begins January 1 and ends March 15, 1922. The collector advises the taxpayers to lose no time in the compilation of their accounts for the year 1921. A new and important provision of the revenue act of 1921 is that every person whose gross income for 1921 was $5,000 or more, shall file a return regardless of the amount of the net income upon which the tax is assessed. Returns are required of every single person whose net income was $1,000 or more, and every married person living with husband or wife whose net income was $2,000 or more; widows and widowers, and persons separated or divorced, are regarded as single persons.

Net income is gross income less certain deductions for business expenses—losses, taxes, etc. Gross income includes practically all income received by the taxpayer during the year. In the case of the wage earner, salaries, wages, bonuses and commissions; in the case of the professional man all amounts received for professional services; in the cases of farmers, all profits from the sale of farm products and rental or sale of land.

In the making of an income tax return for the year 1921 every taxpayer should present to himself the following questions:

What were the profits from your business, trade, profession or vocation?

Did you receive any interest on bank deposits?

Have you any property from which

MERCHANTS' ASSN. PLANS WHIST PARTY

Big Affair to Be Held in Metropolitan
Hall Soon; Over $200 in Prizes

What is expected to be the biggest whist party ever held in South San Francisco is being planned by the members of the South San Francisco Merchants' Association. The affair is being arranged for the benefit of the association which was organized only a few weeks ago, and already has about thirty local merchants on its membership roll. A small admission fee will be charged and a large list of prizes is to be given. These prizes are all to be donated by the individual merchants of the town, and already more than $200 worth of prizes have been promised, with a number of merchants still to be heard from. Several wholesale houses are also expected to give prizes, and by the time the party date has arrived it is believed about $300 in prizes will be ready for awarding.

The big whist party will be held in Metropolitan Hall. A program is being arranged and the tentative plans as announced so far include the serving of refreshments.

The date for the big card party is January 18th.

RETURNING DELEGATES GIVEN ROYAL OVATION

Through the courtesy of the Leo J. Meyberg company, relatives and the friends of the members of the Oriental relationship excursion were able to greet them while three days at sea by wireless telephone from the station at the Fairmont hotel.

The Empire State, the Pacific Mail liner, on which the three months' voyage to Far Eastern countries was made, was tendered a big community welcome Thursday morning.

The ship was met at quarantine at 10 o'clock by a fleet of tugs and launches carrying relatives and friends of the home-comers with bands of music and baskets of flowers. There was a committee of about one hundred San Francisco citizens, headed by Mayor Rolph, which went aboard tugs to escort them down to pier 44 where the

God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home. Amen.

Under the shadow of Thy throne,
Thy saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is Thine arm alone
And our defence is sure.

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

A thousand ages in Thy sight
Are like an evening gone;
Short as the watch that ends the night
Before the rising sun.

Time like an ever-rolling stream,
Bears all its sons away;
They fly forgotten, as a dream
Dies at the opening day.

God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guard while life shall last,
And our eternal home. Amen.

supervisors, army and navy officers, federal officials and delegations from all the civic and commercial bodies of the city, executives and members of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, assembled to give them a rousing welcome as they stepped off the gang plank at 11 o'clock.

The harbor front was decorated and the shipping along the Embarcadero flew a wealth of bunting.

Marshall Dill, chairman of the committee on welcoming arrangements, states this was the biggest celebration ever witnessed in the harbor in the way of a reception to an ocean liner.

He stressed the fact that no other American city has ever undertaken an excursion of such magnitude to foreign neighbors, and that San Francisco appropriately welcomed these pioneers in the new method of cultivating the goodwill of Oriental peoples, a method that is already resulting in a rich reward.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hardy and children and Mr. and Mrs. W. Waelty and son were members of a family party Christmas Day at the home of Mrs. Hardy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Bromley, in San Francisco.

INDUSTRIAL CLUB TO GIVE BIG SHOW

Black-Face Artists Will Sing, Dance and Crack Jokes January 21.

Watch your step, for your friends may be watching you to secure material for "local gags" in the big minstrel show to be held by the members of the Industrial club. The show is to be given Saturday evening, January 21, and "Bones," "Tambo" and all the rest of the conventional features of a first-class minstrel show will be in evidence as well as a number of most unusual features.

An interesting phase of the evening's program as planned will be a dance after the show. The big entertainment will be held in Fraternal Hall, and a ten-piece orchestra will render selections during the show and for the dancing afterward.

Though most of the black-face performers will be local men a number of professional show people will be brought down from San Francisco to put on special features. All together those who are making the arrangements expect it to be a minstrel troupe that will cast the Georgia Minstrels and other famous organizations of the kind, completely into the shade.

EARLY TRAVELERS PRESENT GIFT TO OBLIGING CONDUCTOR

George Foehl, conductor on a street car that arrives in town at an early hour each morning, was presented a box of cigars as a Christmas gift by a number of those who ride on his car to their work during the gloomy hours about dawn each day. Charles Grant of the Bank of South San Francisco made the presentation speech, and, it is said, called most of the flowers of rhetoric in the English language to his aid. The gift was made because of the genial courtesy that always characterizes Mr. Foehl's treatment of his passengers. Those who contributed toward the gift are as follows: Walter Money, Frank Murray, C. M. Hansen, Axel Gunnarson, Pete Menucci, Tom Leare, Sam Curusis, Tony (U. S. inspector), Chas.

REV. RICH WINS OLDSMOBILE AUTO

BIG CONTEST CLOSES WITH DALY CITY MINISTER WINNER OF THE BEAUTIFUL AUTO; MRS. A. J.
CADERO CAPTURES FORD CAR

Rev. E. L. Rich of Daly City

The great Enterprise, North End Progress and Community News subscription getting Christmas prize contest has closed. The prizes have been awarded to those who turned in the most business. While there are bound to be disappointments to a few in a contest covering such a large field as was covered by the three newspapers in this contest, nevertheless The Enterprise feels that the spirit of good American sportsmanship must prevail among the losers as well as the successful winners.

Mrs. A. J. Cadere

Naturally the greatest struggle was for the splendid new 1922 model Oldsmobile touring car, worth $1,365—the grand capital prize. This newspaper offered the very best obtainable. We were willing to pay liberally for good work and we got it, for never before in this section of the state has there been such a successful campaign as the one just closed by this newspaper.

The aggregate vote totals reached enormous figures, representing hundreds and hundreds of new subscriptions and job printing accounts. As a result The Enterprise and North End Progress now cover the north end of San Mateo county like a blanket, the kind of circulation that does advertisers the most good. The Community News also made a very satisfactory circulation gain that will be appreciated by advertisers.

As to the winners: The figures in the judges' statement speak for themselves. To those whose energy has carried them through this campaign to success, this newspaper extends the heartiest congratulations. We are proud of the candidates who took part in this competition, and we hope they in turn will be proud of their prizes.

While the prizes themselves were remarkable for their value, there are other considerations to be taken into account. During this campaign those who have participated have learned

FORTY FOREIGN BORN GIVEN CITIZENSHIP

Largest Class in History Given Papers Before Judge Hudner at Redwood.

Forty foreign-born residents of San Mateo county were given citizenship papers in the superior court Tuesday. This is the largest class to be naturalized in the history of the county. Judge John L. Hudner of San Benito, sitting for Judge G. H. Buck, presided, while the examinations were held by Naturalization Examiner F. A. Littleton.

Sixteen countries are represented in the list of the successful applicants, with Italy having a commanding lead in eleven new sons adopted by Uncle Sam. Germany is second with four, and France, Scotland and Ireland tie for third place with three each.

Patriotic exercises were held preceding the examinations and were in charge of Mrs. J. N. Winter, chairman of the Americanization Committee for San Mateo county. The program consisted of a short address by County Superintendent of Schools R. W. Cloud on the duties of citizenship, the Salute to the Flag by members of George S. Evans Relief Corps, Redwood City, and the singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" by Professor Otis M. Carrington.

The following are the names, places of birth and present residences of the forty new citizens:

Joseph Casaretto, Italy, Redwood City.
George Peter Maes, France, San Mateo.
John Campbell, Scotland, San Mateo.
Arthur W. Wolfe, Canada, Redwood City.

LOCAL LODGE OF MASONS INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

Francis Drake Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, held an installation of officers at Fraternal hall last Friday evening that was one of the most successful affairs of its kind which ever took place in this city. About three hundred members of the order and their wives were present; many attending from every town on the peninsula, an especially large delegation being present from San Mateo lodge and from Crocker lodge of Daly City. After the installation addresses were made by a number of the members of the local lodge and by visitors after which all adjourned to the banquet room where an elaborate repast was served. A short program followed the supper.

During the ceremony W. R. Waely acted as installing officer with J. W. Coleberd as master of ceremonies. The following were inducted into office:

R. W. Burge, worshipful master; J. G. Walker, senior warden; G. T. Williams, junior warden; F. A. Cunningham, treasurer; G. W. Holston, secretary; E. H. Molony, chaplain; L. G. Hardy, senior deacon; C. K. Elder, junior deacon; W. R. Waely, marshal; C. F. Schurk, senior steward; W. C. Roberts, junior steward; J. J. Martin, organist; M. Williams, tyler.

His Ailment Diagnosed

"Water," yelled the fervent orator. "Aqua, aqua! Aqua pura! The greatest gift of nature to thirsty man! What would the ocean be without water? Answer me that. What—"

That question had never struck his audience before. They pondered in silence.

"Water," cried the orator again. "What would: Niagara Falls be without water?"

Another stupeduous question. His audience stirred restlessly; his arguments were much too much for them. "Of what use," screamed the orator, "would our bathtubs be without clean, beautiful water?"

As one man in the audience turned and left the hall, perhaps to consider outside the orator's brainy conundrums. But one ignorant fellow said to another:

"That man has water on the brain."

much that will be of life-long benefit to them. They have made new and pleasant acquaintances. They have formed more correct ideas along business lines, and most of them have developed a sense of observation that will pay future dividends.

The competition has been a splendid training and a valuable experience. It has taught, among other things, that courage and perseverance are the two most essential elements necessary to overcome the obstacles that beset one through life.

Of course it was inevitable that all candidates could not win first prize. That was understood at the beginning of the race. Right or wrong, civilization has accepted and applied nature's rule of "the survival of the fittest." To accomplish most purposes worth while a great amount of energy is necessary, and fortune lavishes her richest gifts on those best equipped to carry out the mandates of ambition.

In conclusion, we wish to say that our relations with all the candidates have been very pleasant indeed. They in turn, have dealt with an organization that, to the best of its ability, made the contest one long to be remembered for its wholesome character and fair dealings. It was a great race, and it leaves in bold relief that cardinal virtue—squareness.

Awards were made, under the rules announced at the beginning of the campaign, according to the judges' statement.

All figures were totaled on a new adding machine furnished for the occasion by the Burroughs Adding Machine Company. This aided greatly in making a rapid and careful check of the returns and left no doubt as to the accuracy of the final count.

you received any rent?

Did you receive any income in the form of dividends or interest from stocks or bonds??

Did you receive any profit on the sale of stocks, bonds or other property, real or personal?

Did you act as a broker in any transaction from which you received commissions?

Are you interested in any partnership, firm from which you received any income?

Have you any income from royalties or patents?

Have you any minor children who are working?

Do you appropriate, or have the right to appropriate the earnings of such children? If so, the amount must be included in the income tax return.

Has your wife any income from any source whatsoever? If so, it must be included in your return or a separate return of income filed. Did you receive any director's fees or trustee's fees during the course of the year. Did you hold any office in a benefit society from which you have received income?

Answers to all these questions are necessary in order to determine whether a person has an income sufficiently large to require a return to be filed.

Any failure knows that an honest man can't succeed, and by the same reasoning knows that any man who has succeeded must be dishonest.

PRESIDENT HARDING MAKES APPOINTMENTS ON COMMISSION

Seth Mann, attorney and manager of the traffic bureau of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and regional vice president of the National Industrial Traffic league for the Pacific coast, has received advices from Washington stating that President W. G. Harding has sent the nomination of Clyde B. Aichison of Oregon, and H. C. Hall of Colorado to the Senate to succeed themselves as members of the Interstate Commerce Commission for the term of seven years each.

The Interstate Commerce Commission as it now stands in point of service follows: Charles C. McChord, eleven years; B. H. Meyer, eleven years; Henry C. Hall, eight years; W. M. Daniels, eight years; Clyde B. Aichison, four years; J. B. Eastman, three years; M. W. Potter, eighteen months; John J. Esch, eight months; E. I. Lewis, six months; J. B. Campbell, six months; F. I. Cox, three months.

At its recent meeting the executive committee of the National Traffic league voiced the opinion that on account of the large number of new members already upon the commission it would be most unfortunate to replace any of those who had had several years' of experience.

The Point

Mr. Herlihy was erasing the jokes in his paper and pondering over each one. At last he huddled as he found one that was clear as crystal, to his thinking.

"Listen to this, Cely, dear," he said to Mrs. Herlihy. "An Irishman was asked by his wife where she'd better put the key to her trunk, when she was starting on a journey. 'Put it inside before you lock it,' said the husband. Aha! That's a good joke."

"Seems to me it's no joke at all, but only foolishness," said Mrs. Herlihy, severely, without removing her gaze from a large hole she was darning.

"A-ha! But you've missed the point my dear!" cried Mr. Herlihy. "When she arrived at her destination it's a shilling she'd have to pay for a new key. A-ha!"—Edinburg Scotsman.

Who's Who

The child, the ride of the neighborhood because of his keen intelligence was left to play at the home of a neighbor. There was something different about this home that seemed to attract the child more than any other. Here he was amused by an elderly man who read, played the piano, slept and did nothing to mark him as the head of the household. His wife, on the other hand, carried on a successful department store where she spent twelve of the twenty-four hours.

This condition seemed quite contrary to the child's conception of domestic life. To him the duty of the head of the house was to leave after breakfast for business and return at night to dinner, while the wife was to stay at home and attend to the household duties. The child's mother returned and noticed that the child looked puzzled, but could not put his query into words. Finally he asked: "Mother, is she a he?"—New York Sun

NEW YEAR'S GIFTS

Exchange of Hearts Regarded as Most Acceptable.

The Most Valued Gems Are Those Strung on Love's Chain and Beyond Price.

Ah, they know not heart Of man or woman who declare That love needs time to woo with care! His altars wait not day nor name—Only the touch of sacred flame.

IT MAY be dangerous for a young woman to ask a nice young man who has been paying marked attention to her what he would like to have her give him for a New Year's gift, Laura Jean Libbey writes. Nine out of ten men will make ready answer: "I should appreciate, more than words can tell, a gift that money can't buy—your heart, dear, and the promise of your hand in wedlock."

Why shouldn't a lover make bold to ask for the treasure that is nearest his heart, when the opportunity is his? What maiden, who really loves, will say aught else than "you may ask papa?" Why shouldn't an exchange of hearts be the most acceptable holiday gift that can be given?

All else can be bought with gold by any hand that holds it. The tender love of a pure sweetheart, the earnest, absorbing devotion of a good, loving wife, the love of little children, aye and of parents, brothers, sisters and of kinsfolk, are gems strung upon love's chain—beyond price.

The childless husband and wife would give all their wealth if it could purchase a love-bond—a child whom they could press to their breast—their very own. The proud old bachelor, whom all the world envies, would barter his wealth for the real love of one honest, trusting heart.

But the women from among whom he would choose a mate do not want him. He finds that all the wealth of the Indies cannot purchase that which is God-given—love.

Money cannot buy such loyalty as exists between son and sire; between mother and daughter. A rich man might secure the hand of a woman young and beautiful in marriage, but if her heart has not gone with it, he soon finds wealth, with all its glitter, which can buy many comforts, cannot purchase love. Nor can it buy happiness and contentment or prolong life one moment longer than destiny decrees.

If health was a favor which only the rich could buy, The rich would live. The poor would die.

The miser who was caught in his own trap by the spring door swinging to and locking itself behind him, found that all his gold was but dross to him and set him free. The millionaire, going down in a sinking ship, finds that the life of a struggling sailor is fully as precious as his own when both are fighting for a place in a lifeboat. There is not money enough in the universe for him to give his life for the others. There are indeed many treasures which money cannot buy in this dear, just old world.

OLD YEAR AND NEW

Forget Past, Start Anew With No Apology for Yesterday.

Box Up All Mistakes and Troubles That Never Happened and Bury Them Deep.

WE VISITED a penitentiary one time. The turnkey went before, unlocked all the doors and carefully locked them after we had gone through. We went from cell-house to cellhouse, and from corridor to corridor. We could not go back, but we could go forward. Forget about last year. December 31 locks its doors securely forever. You can't unlock those doors. What has been done cannot be undone. Perhaps you began your life's journey quite awhile ago. 1900 is gone! 1910 is gone! 1920 is gone! Those years all sped by, and they are locked forever. They are gone with lost opportunities, wasted privileges, broken pledges. You cannot call them back.

Regrettable it is we cannot go back, and, with the added experience of years live a portion of our lives again. Every high-minded person would do differently if he was given the last ten or twenty years to live over. But why think over the past? Why nurse the unfortunate in your bosom?

You cannot go back if you would; if you are sensible you would not if you could. To brood over life's unforgotten past only doubles the present load, makes one more morose and crabbed, and deepens the furrows in one's brow. Wipe off the slate. Box up all omissions, all "shallow miseries," all mistakes, all the troubles that never happened—and bury them.

Then about face! Head erect, chest out, shoulders back, and—forward march! Look every person squarely in the eye, make no apology for yesterday, for tomorrow is before you. The new year is yours. The world lies at your very feet.

This is not a message simply for youth, because no person is exempt from moral obligations. There is no age limit in life's battle. When we are through with the world the world is through with us. Too many persons consider it fashionable to "retire" at a certain age, and that age is getting constantly lower.

If one has not found life's place before forty, the more the reason for his doubling his efforts after forty. A man should not consider withdrawing from life's toil at fifty, and one should not think himself old at sixty. Gladstone was doing the best work of his life at eighty-five, and at eighty-seven toured England on a speech-making trip in behalf of Armenia.

Little streams often dry up in the desert, but great rivers run full strength to the sea, and turn the wheels of commerce before they finally plunge into the ocean. Small lives are easily discouraged, but every great life is rooted in the past, blossoms today and bears fruit tomorrow.

The great life is ahead, because we have the blessed results of yesterday's experience. The future is full of promise. America's greatest history is yet to be written. The best days are yet to come. 1921 was far better than 1920; 1922 will be better than 1921, if we will make it so. We shall find this a very good old world, if we are willing to do our part.

"Success consists not in never failing, but in rising every time we fail."

Many of your life mistakes have been made in conversation by "stepping on the gas" when you ought to have used the brake.

DATE CREAMS.

2 cupfuls brown sugar, ¼ cupful corn sirup, ½ cupful water, ¼ teaspoonful cream of tartar, ½ cupful dates, ½ cupful walnut meats, 2 egg whites, 1 teaspoonful vanilla.

Boil together the sugar, corn sirup, water, and cream of tartar until it will form a soft ball in cold water; add the dates which have been chopped fine, return the pan to the fire and boil until it forms a hard ball in cold water; add the vanilla, then pour the mixture over the stiffly beaten egg whites. Beat until creamy, then drop by spoonfuls onto oiled paper; put half walnut meats on top.

Ring Out, Wild Bells

Ring out, wild bells, to the wild sky, The flying cloud, the frosty light; The year is dying in the night; Ring out, wild bells, and let him die.

Ring out the old, ring in the new, Ring, happy bells, across the snow; The year is going, let him go; Ring out the false, ring in the true.

Ring out the grief that saps the mind, For those that here we see no more; Ring out the feud of rich and poor; Ring in redress to all mankind.

Ring out a slowly dying cause, And ancient forms of party strife; Ring in the nobler modes of life, With sweeter manners, purer laws.

Ring out false pride in place and blood, The civic slander and the spite; Ring in the love of truth and right, Ring in the common love of good.

Ring out old shapes of foul disease, Ring out the narrowing lust of gold; Ring out the thousand wars of old, Ring in the thousand years of peace. —Alfred Lord Tennyson.

MOLASSES FOAM.

This is the very cheapest candy. Boil equal parts (say, one cup each) of sugar and good molasses together until the mixture becomes brittle when tested in ice water, and then put into this (first) lemon flavoring (just a few drops) and a level teaspoonful of carbonate of soda—old-fashioned baking soda. Stir very briskly and be prepared, for the candy foams up over twice the quantity it was before the soda was added, hence the necessity for making it in a big pan and of having your buttered tins at hand to pour it in instantly when it is thoroughly "risen." This candy must never be exposed to sudden cold while cooling.

NO WONDER.

Dorothy—Oh, father, why have you buttoned your coat way up around your chin?

Father—So as to hide this tie your mother bought me for Christmas, my child.

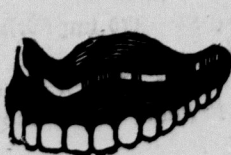

She may be his better half, but any man who's been married a while knows it's a big mistake to let her think so.

Dr. HARRY MORGAN SAYS:

I want every man, woman and child in California to know that Ace Dentistry means not only high-class dental work, but also a dental service to help you take care of the teeth nature gave you. In the interest of better teeth and health I am giving free examinations and advice to any one who may wish to call at my offices. To make this easier for you, I keep open evenings until 9 o'clock; Sundays until 12 noon. All work done is of such high class that I am able to give you a written guarantee.

The Penalty

He entered the breakfast room with a letter in his hand, his face suffused with shame and confusion.

"My dear," he said hesitatingly.

"Well?" snapped his dear.

"I—I'm very sorry, but—"

"You usually are sorry about something, and with good cause. What's the matter now?"

"This letter to your mother. You gave it to me to post about ten days ago, and—and—I—"

"You've forgotten to post it. Well!" calmly, "we must make the best of it, I suppose. That letter was to ask mother to postpone her visit this year, but since you've forgotten to post it, I expect she'll be here some time today."

Ten minutes later a frantic man might have been dimly discerned in the depths of the innermost coal cellar administering unto himself a sound kicking. —Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

There are exceptions to every rule except the rule that the winner gets the spoils.

Deep Gratitude

It is related that the famous Sheridan went to a hairdressers on one occasion to order a wig. The barber was a liberal soul, and on the orator being measured, a bottle of port was produced and so much hospitality was shown that Sheridan's heart was touched. When they arose from the table and were about to separate, Sheridan, looking at the barber full in the face, said: "On reflecting, I don't intend that you shall make my wig."

Astonished, and with blank visage, the barber exclaimed, "But Mr. Sheridan, how can I have displeased you?" "Why, look you," said Sheridan, "you are an honest fellow, and I repeat it, you shan't make my wig, for I never intended to pay for it. I'll go to another less worthy son of the craft." —Edinburgh Scotsman.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1921.

1922 . . . ?

Again we stand at the threshold of a new year and wonder what it has in store for us. The year 1921 is gone, and with it its mistakes and its failures as well as its successes and its pleasures.

We cannot bring back that which is gone, and most of us have little wish to in the case of the last year. It has been a trying twelvemonth from a commercial standpoint, and there are few indeed among business men who are not hoping and confidently expecting better times during the year about to begin. There is an optimism current in business circles just now that is unmistakable. The last two years have seen the readjustment from wartime conditions and the industrial turmoil incident to getting back to a normal footing. But all that is now practically at an end. History has repeated itself. After all the great wars of all time a period of unrest and readjustment has spread commercial depression. There is already signs of history repeating itself again, in that good times follow the depression. We are now about to enter an era of better times, and the early months of 1922 are sure to see those better times well on their way.

We cannot bring back the opportunities that we overlooked in the year that is past. We do not wish to bring back the mistakes we made. We can determine that in the year to come we will grasp such opportunities as offer and make fewer mistakes.

Hail to 1922. That it may have much of happiness and success in store for you all is the sincere wish of The Enterprise.

ABOUT THE CONTEST

The great circulation contest held by The Enterprise, the North End Progress, and the Community News, the greatest affair of its kind ever held in San Mateo county, ended Friday evening of last week, and the two automobiles offered as principal prizes as well as the other attractive prizes have all been awarded. On the front page of today's issue will be found the judges' final count of the votes, with the names of the fortunate winners.

The contest from the standpoint of the three newspapers involved was very successful. The publishers have but one regret—that an automobile could not be awarded to each of those who worked so hard day after day to secure subscriptions and business for us. The contest for the prizes brought out unusual salesmanship ability on the part of nearly all the contestants and we would gladly have presented an automobile to each had it been possible. At least, we are glad to know that the business experience each worker gained will be worth more to him or her in years to come than the prizes themselves.

A word as to Contest Manager H. F. Sweatland. He proved himself thoroughly master of his business and fair in his dealings with both publisher and candidate. Not a contestant but learned to respect Mr. Sweatland and to consider him altogether "on the square." It has been a pleasure to have him with us and we regret his departure.

The publisher wishes to extend the most sincere thanks to every contestant for their earnest efforts; the judges, for their work in seeing that the award was fairly made; Mr. Sweatland, for his untiring labors, and all the thousands of friends who spent their money in our behalf at a time when money was none too plentiful and the demands on every purse were many.

A HUNDRED MILLION GOATS

When Mr. Wilson was president the administration took the attitude that the present generation should pay all of the huge indebtedness incurred as a result of our entry into the world war.

Under Mr. Harding's administration it is proposed that these debts be liquidated within a period of twenty-five years.

In addition, the allies owe us about eleven billions of dollars which we may never see again. The eleven billions must necessarily come from the pockets of the present generation, as it has already vanished.

But why this frantic haste to liquidate our own debt? Why the insistent attempt to saddle the whole burden upon those who have done the suffering? Why make this generation both suffer and pay while the next generation will have nothing to do but reap the benefits?

America did not enter the war from choice, or through any benevolent or chivalrous desire to aid England or France when their backs were to the wall in a losing fight. The government and congress knew that without American aid for the allies Germany would win, and that the next step of a victorious Teutonic army would be to overrun this country or to drive our ships and commerce from the seas.

These are the facts in a few words. It is therefore plain to any one of normal intelligence that we fought not only for ourselves, but for the benefit and preservation of generations of Americans yet to come. Why, then, should we of today assume all of the burdens? Why should future generations reap the benefits without any of the hardships?

Why not extend this liquidation over a period of fifty or a hundred years, and lighten to some extent the burdens of taxation that are pressing so heavily upon the people of today? Why make slaves of the people of this generation in order that those of the next may live in greater affluence? Why make a hundred million people of today the royal goats for those of tomorrow?

If you don't want to be known as a nuisance don't run around with a grievance.

Some people keep a light burning in their room at night in order to be able to see in the dark.

To be popular you should listen to the troubles of others. They have no time to waste on yours.

Mortality in this country is on the decrease, except in cases where some fool steps on the gas.

A really brave man seldom offers excuses. Facts are sufficient warrant for his action.

It may be true that the late war has many lessons to teach, but school is not in session.

A man should never refer to his wife as the "old woman." It gives away his age.

It takes a wise man to make a fool of himself intentionally.

LOCALS

A New Year's party will be given at Carpenter's Hall Saturday evening, which will be a strictly invitational affair.

N. Drescher was admitted to citizenship last Tuesday in the superior court at Redwood City. John Osmer, a native of New Zealand, was also admitted at the same time and place.

The postmaster has three letters at his office addressed to a W. G. Domning or Downing, postmarked France, which he has been unable to deliver. They were addressed to box 118.

A few days ago a determined effort was made to break into the Hirrell grocery store, but fortunately the unwelcome intruder was scared away before he was able to effect an entry.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, lately of Chicago and now living in Los Angeles, left last Saturday by auto to visit their married daughter, Mrs. Rider, at Santa Cruz. They report having had a rough but very enjoyable trip.

Mrs. George G. Hughes spent the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hall, at Petaluma. She was accompanied by little Carol, who returned home from the hospital a few weeks ago. A few days prior to Christmas Mr. Hall celebrated his eighty-third birthday.

A high school lad about 16 years of age, by name Bovet, while hunting in the hills near town a few days ago, by some unfortunate means had his gun discharged, with the result that he received the full charge of shot in his leg. He had with him a boy companion of 14 years of age, much smaller than himself, who pluckily carried him to their auto, which they had left some two miles away from where they were shooting, and at once conveyed him to town for surgical aid. Amputation of the leg was found necessary.

CITY TRUSTEES MEET IN REGULAR SESSION

Steps Taken to Have Paving Laid in Third Addition, Huntington Park and Along Highway.

The city trustees met for their regular meeting at the city hall Wednesday night, the only absentee being Trustee Palmer.

The city engineer presented a rough draft of the proposed new ordinance governing motor vehicle traffic, in which he suggests that a maximum of six tons be fixed instead of five as tentatively fixed at the last meeting. This matter was left to the next meeting for final adjustment.

Engineer Kneese also reported that he had looked over the matter of installing a sewer on the Della Maggiora property, and had come to the conclusion that it was inadvisable to build the sewer through the culvert under San Mateo avenue. Further time was granted in this matter.

The only building permit sought was one for rebuilding Thomas Dixon's house by Contractor Grisez, which was granted.

City Clerk Miss Willits addressed a communication to the board requesting that she be given a permanent deputy at $75 a month, as the work of the city absolutely required such. This, Miss Willits stated, would be a saving to the city if granted, as additional help as now paid was costing the city as much as it would under her plan.

The board instructed the city clerk to write a letter to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, thanking it for the very efficient service it rendered during the late storm. It is of interest to note that on Christmas day the company had some eighty men out looking after breaks in the system occasioned by the storm then raging, and it was entirely due to its effective work the lighting service was kept going.

Commissioner of Works Trustee O'Connor reported trouble with the sewers in the Belle Air district, they being too small to properly carry off the surface water. The board authorized him to take up the matter with Engineer Kneese and take such steps as would remedy the matter most effectively.

A motion was carried that the street work in San Bruno Park, under resolution No. 272, be awarded to the Municipal Improvement Company. The board decided that economy suggested the wisdom of such a course, as investigation had shown conclusively that material for street work would not go down, but that it would more probably go up, therefore it was advisable to accept the price tendered some months ago.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for street work in Third Addition and Huntington Park similar to that done in the First and Jeneveln additions. Also for improving the state highway from San Felipe avenue to Uncle Tom's Cabin on both sides, this work to consist of curbs and sidewalks and paving from curb to curb, also the bridge near the cabin to be broadened and sidewalked.

THE LATE STORM.

Considerable damage was done to property in San Bruno during the late storm, which old-time residents say was one of the fiercest ever seen in this section. The Methodist church had its brick chimney blown down, while the new church in course of erection on Mastick avenue was more or less thrown out of plumb, necessitating its being pulled back into shape by cable and windless. The lumber yard also had a great deal of timber scattered around. A number of trees were blown down, as well as fences.

YEOMEN WHIST PARTY.

The Yeomen's whist party at Carpenter's Hall last Tuesday evening was well attended and keen competition for the first two prizes, a couple of live turkeys, was stirred up, they being won by Mr. and Mrs. Jacobsen of Fourth Addition. The other winners were: Mrs. Ebersole, second prize; Mrs. Traviola, third; Gene Daneri, second gentlemen's, and Joe Ludwig, third. The turkey raffle was won by Mrs. Ruzic.

BOLIOLI-POSERO ENGAGEMENT.

Monday night at her parents' home the engagement of Miss Marguerita Posero to Jack Bolioli of the Home Grocery was announced at a dinner given to celebrate the happy event. The dinner served was a sumptuous affair, thoroughly enjoyed by all who had the privilege of being present. The table decorations, carried out in white chrysanthemums, were of a particularly lovely and effective design. The congratulations of the hosts of friends of the happy couple have been pouring in since the engagement has become known. The marriage is to take place in May.

Mrs. Alice Laumeister spent Christmas Day with her married son, E. Follett, at his home in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Calif., October 31, 1921.

Homestead Garage, San Mateo, Calif. Model 47 Oldsmobile, equipped with standard pacemaker body, yesterday ran 1000-mile test on Cotati Speedway. Total elapsed time for 1000 miles, 899 minutes, making over 65 2-3 miles per hour. The trial started at 1:05 a. m., finished at 4:24 p. m. Dense fog encountered from 4 to 6:45 a. m. First 500 miles, average speed, 62 2-100 miles per hour; last 500 miles, 70 4-100 miles per hour. Last lap at rate of 72 miles per hour. Fastest lap, 81 79-100 miles per hour. During the entire 1000 miles the bonnet was never lifted and motor running sweetly and smoothly at the finish. Race officially observed and timed by representatives of San Francisco press.

J. W. LEAVITT & CO.

That the Oldsmobile could make this time proves that it has power and speed. That it could make the 1000 miles without even raising the bonnet proves that it is dependable, reliable and durable.

Good
Resolutions
By Mary Graham
Bonner

"What about some good resolutions for the coming year?" asked daddy.
"I have one or two—that is I have made one or two which I think are good ones," said Nancy.
"So have I," said Nick.
"Let's hear them," said daddy, and he settled back in his chair.

"Nancy first," said Nick.

"All right," agreed daddy.

"In the first place," said Nancy, "I have made a resolution to get up when I am called in the morning and not make mother or you try to wake me so that you get all tired out. I get lazy in the morning, so lazy, and I think I cannot possibly get along without another little nap."

"It isn't that I haven't slept enough, or that I want to be late to school, for I don't. I love school. It's lots of fun and I like even the work, for I think it is very interesting. But there is something else about my resolution."

"What is that?" asked daddy.

"I know perfectly well that I can go back to sleep for a little while and that some one will see that I really get up in time though it often means that mother has to hurry the breakfast or that Nick has to get my books ready."

"I have known that someone would get me up and look after the things I hadn't time to do, so I have grown selfish about it. That's all. That's resolution number one."

Nick smiled, for he knew how often he had gotten Nancy's books ready. Not that he minded, but still he thought it was fine of Nancy to try to do something which would be hard for her to do. He knew that she loved a "few extra moments" in which to sleep.

"And my second resolution," said Nancy, "is to save half of every penny I get and—"

"That would be hard to do," laughed Nick. "Would you divide the pennies in half really?" he added after a moment.

"No, don't laugh at me," said Nancy. "We aren't really laughing at you at all," said daddy.

"I know it," said Nancy, smiling. "Well, I mean, as Nick knows quite well, only he is such a tease, that whenever I get some money I will save half of it. If I only get one penny at a time I will save the first penny I get and the second one will be for myself."

"All Right," Agreed Daddy.

"What are you going to save for, Nancy?" asked Nick. "Do you expect to be a penny millionaire?"

"What in the world is that?" asked Nancy.

"I thought perhaps you were trying to save a million pennies instead of a million dollars so you would be a millionaire of pennies."

Nancy and daddy laughed. But Nick said:

"Go on, Sis, I want to hear."

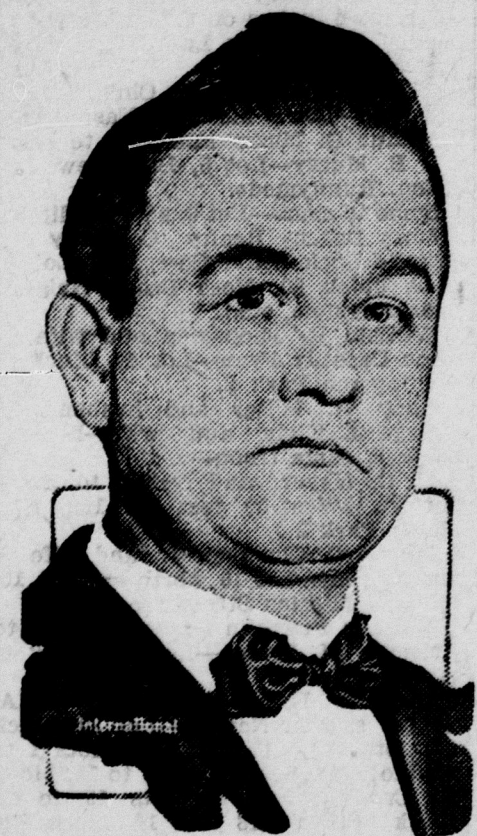

"I'm going to put my pennies in a bank and when the summer comes I'm going to give them to some farm for city children. Daddy gave to one last year for both of us. But I'm going to try to do my own share this year. We have a country home but there are lots of children in the city who can't have the country unless someone helps to pay their expenses."

"Great!" said Nick. "That's the right idea. Well, my resolutions don't sound so fine beside yours. But here is one: I've been thinking that sometimes there are children in the hospital here, and that it would be nice if once a week we went to see them and showed them our story books, and took them some of our toys, played games with them—quiet games like Jack Straws. In the springtime we could take any sick children we knew of some flowers, for it must be awfully hard to be sick in the spring. And at Easter time we could take them chocolate bunnies!"

"I've planned to save some of my pennies for the bunnies and sometimes for an extra treat we might take the sick children. And I've also made a resolution to never tease anyone or anything smaller than myself, for that's mean."

Daddy smiled and said, "Two resolutions to be kept are better than dozens of them forgotten the day after New Year's."

HIS BLOOD IS IN DEMAND

Thomas Kane, a stocky little Irish-American now living in New York, holds the world's record for number of blood transfusions. He has given his blood to men and women at the point of death 44 times in the last seven years, giving from a pint to almost a quart at each transfusion. He is employed as a special officer in the Pennsylvania terminal, but is at the call of several New York physicians.

The Indian's Vigil.

In a book of sketches of upper Canada, a pretty incident is cited of the writer meeting an Indian at midnight, on Christmas Eve, during a beautiful moonlight, cautiously creeping along, and beckoning him to silence. In answer to an inquiry the Indian said: "Me watch to see the deer kneel; this is Christmas night, and all the deer fall upon their knees to the Great Spirit and look up."

The Fatal Words

"Ma wants two pounds of butter exactly like what you sent us last week. If it ain't exactly like that she won't take it."

The grocer turned to his customers and remarked blandly: "Some people don't like particular customers, but I do. It's my delight to get them just what they want. I will attend to you in a moment, my boy."

"All right," said the boy, "but be sure and get the same kind. A lot of dad's relations are visiting our house, and ma doesn't want 'em to come again." — Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

SUPERVISORS HOLD SPECIAL BRIDGE MEET

San Mateo Co. to Build Bridge With S.
F. Providing for Water Viaduct.

The special meeting of the board of supervisors held Thursday morning for the consideration of the Dumbarton bridge project, resulted in definite steps being taken toward the successful culmination of the big project. Many delegates from the different Chambers of Commerce of the peninsula were present and the matter was thoroughly thrashed out. The first step taken was the appointment of a committee, consisting of the board of supervisors as a whole, together with County Engineer George A. Kneese, to interview City Engineer O'Shaughnessy of San Francisco to learn how much of the Hetch-Hetchy fund can be used in the construction of the bridge. The plan that met with most favor at Thursday's meeting was to have San Mateo county build the upper part of the bridge and retain absolute control of the structure, placing a toll upon vehicles using it to pay for its construction, but to have San Francisco build the foundation and lower part of the structure and thus make provision for the carrying of the Hetch-Hetchy viaduct across the bay.

As soon as the committee appointed to interview O'Shaughnessy reports back to the supervisors, definite steps will be taken to have the preliminary survey made for the bridge.

REDUCES

Labor
Prices

TO PRE-WAR LEVEL

Service charges re-established consistent with Ford's three large cuts in prices of Ford cars and extensive reductions in genuine Ford parts.

CARS

	1920	1921
Chassis	$ 654.26	$418.57
Roadster	691.21	456.38
Touring	717.27	498.17
Coupe	1003.39	788.07
Sedan	1113.74	805.75
Tractor	894.32	750.00

PARTS

	1920	1921
Cylinder Block	$35.00	$25.00
Top, complete	40.00	25.00
Top deck, complete	15.00	7.50
Front Fender	7.00	4.25
Rear Fender	6.00	3.75
Radiator	30.00	20.00

LABOR

	1920	1921
Motor and Transmission Overhaul	$32.50	$25.00
Valve Grind	5.00	3.00
Front System Overhaul	9.00	5.00
Generator Overhaul	3.50	2.50

The above reduction in labor is made possible by modern equipment, skill and speed by trained mechanics, but—NOT BY REDUCTION IN WAGES.

We have a service motor, rear system, front system and radiator for the use of our customers.
